

GUITAR LESSONS

Guitar lessons are private secondary lessons and are not intended to be the camper's primary instrument. They maybe taken if a camper's class schedule and faculty member's schedule permits. This form and payment does not guarantee a placement for guitar lessons.

The teacher, Mr. Robert Wuagneux, has been a classical and popular guitar instructor and performer for over thirteen years. He taught applied classical and popular guitar, as well as class guitar lessons in the Hayes School of Music at App State for four years and is the former guitar instructor for the Community Music School. These diverse teaching responsibilities have inspired Mr. Wuagneux to create his own holistic approach to music pedagogy that simultaneously incorporates instrument and academic instruction; encouraging music comprehension in a larger context.

No prior knowledge of guitar is required and all levels are welcome!
The student must bring their own instrument.

On the first Monday of camp, the camper will go to Mr. Wuagneux's studio to schedule guitar lessons. If both schedules permit, the instructor will give the camper a form to return to the camp office for processing payment.

Campers may send this registration and a check in advance of camp to indicate an interest in guitar lessons. Once Mr. Wuagneux's availability is confirmed, your check will be deposited. If a form/payment is not sent in advance, the camper can complete the form on the first Monday, and pay with cash, check or debit card. If needed the camp office can call the parent/guardian for payment by credit/debit card. All forms & payments are due no later than the first Tuesday of camp by 5 P.M.

Cannon Music Camp accepts VISA OR MASTERCARD only (no Discover or American Express).
